

A FARMER PLANTS
A HEDGEROW

Farm Biodiversity – Hedgerow Hotels for Wildlife

Did you know that hedgerows provide important shelter for a farmer's livestock? They provide protection from wind and rain and shade from the sun on hot days. Hedgerows are important habitats for lots of wildlife such as nesting birds and provide food for birds, small mammals and insects.

How many different plants and animals can you spot?

Send a picture of your masterpiece to comp@nationalruralnetwork.ie before Friday, April 9th, 2021

Name : _____

Age : _____

County: _____

National Rural Network